

WHAT WE DID...

"Throughout March, the College of Arts and Humanities provided prospective and current students with the opportunity to ask questions on a range of topics via its Instagram channel (@cymunedcoah). Prospective students were sent an initial summative email showcasing participants hosting Instagram takeovers, including students Chelsea Morris and Lydia Hobbs, along with lecturer in Welsh, Dr Hannah Sams. Mirroring the campaign on the English channel (@coahcommunity), the takeovers followed themes which would be inclusive to both prospective and current students.

Interested in watching the takeovers? You can find them on the Instagram highlights on @cymunedcoah."
